

Ir. Akhis R. Hutabarat, M.A., Ph.D.

Economist and policy strategist with professional background spans digital financial asset governance, domestic and regional economic surveillance, economic and monetary policy research and teaching, payment system policy, digital currency advisory work, and earlier roles in industrial engineering and business process reengineering.

Currently serve as commissioner at crypto-asset clearing house and committee member in crypto-bourse oversight, contributing to market integrity, risk management, and responsible innovation in digital asset markets. Combines senior advisory work in financial consulting with teaching economics, integrating policy, market, and academic perspectives.

Previously served as director for payment system policy and deputy director for economic research and monetary policy at Bank Indonesia; economist at the ASEAN+3 Macroeconomic Research Office in Singapore—an international organization for economic surveillance and regional financial safety net arrangements; senior economist at the Supervisory Board of Indonesia’s Financial Services Authority; advisory-network member at Sovereign Official Digital Association, Inc.—a US-based digital-currency consultancy; and industrial engineer at Astra International, Inc., a Jakarta-based manufacturing holding company.

Bachelor’s degree in Industrial Engineering from Bandung Institute of Technology, master’s degree in Economics from the University of Michigan, USA, and PhD in Economics from the University of Leicester, UK.

Focus areas include macro-financial economics, digital currency, payment systems, financial inclusion, and financial technology, with ongoing work at the intersection of policy, innovation, and market development.

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/ahutabar>

